

Little Ones Learning Center, ATWEC Technologies, and National Bus Sales & Leasing Kick Off Safety Fair for Georgia KidSafe Program Oct. 12, 2012

Georgia KidSafe Program Educates Little Ones Learning Center on Van/Bus Safety

Forest Park GA (October 12, 2012) – Little Ones Learning Center, ATWEC Technologies, Inc,(a leader in the childcare safety industry), and National Bus Sales & Leasing will host Georgia first of many Safety Transportation Fairs on October 12, 2012 10am at Little Ones Learning Center located at 993 Forest Park Ave, Forest Park GA.

Little Ones Learning Center has been awarded the fair because they submitted the best drawing of ATWEC's safety mascot Kiddie Kid™ through their participation of a state wide safety drawing contest. Little Ones not only entered the best drawing but also demonstrated their seriousness to become proactive through educating their staff and children through safety comic materials distributed by the company's safety Mascot Kiddie Kid™.

The safety fair is designed to raise awareness, educate the importance on preventing accidental child abandonment in vehicles as well as back up accidents, and address safety concerns while they are transported each day on vans and school buses. The fair is also fill with food, fun, games and also the local police and fire authorities will be on hand to further educate and expose our children on handling their other emergency needs.

ATWEC's signature Kiddie Systems™ product lines help to save lives by alerting drivers to potential child backover accidents as well as accidental child abandonment on childcare and school bus vehicles. As winners of the contest, National Bus Sales & Leasing will donate technology for their vehicles which will be available for demonstration on Oct 12th. Our goal with the KiddieVoice® and Kiddie Alert™ Systems is to save lives," said Alex T. Wiley, President, ATWEC, Inc. “Our research shows that a child responds better by hearing a human voice.

As part of the ceremony various city and county officials will be on hand to discuss the merits of the program as well as ATWEC mascot, Kiddie Kid™. The colorful cartoon character life action figure will be giving away Kiddie Kid T-shirts as well as comic books and other assorted items.

“National Bus Sales & Leasing want to make the Kiddie Systems™ available and affordable for use throughout Georgia,” said Jason T. Smith (Vice President), adding “given the increase in the number of accidents we continue to see, if we can save just one child’s life, our efforts will be well worth it.” National Bus Sales & Leasing has donated a Kiddie Voice system to Little Ones Learning Center for being a contest winner.

ATWEC partnered with National Bus Sales & Leasing to make the KiddieVoice™ and KiddieAlert™ Systems available for installation on childcare vans, school buses and other types of vehicles used to transport children.
